

Economic Perspectives

Program description

Economic Perspectives is an interactive video webcast for executives and managers of mid-market and private companies.

The February 10, 2015 Economic Perspectives program will feature Dr. Ira Kalish, Deloitte Chief Global Economist, Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu Limited. Dr. Ira Kalish is a specialist in global economic issues as well as the effects of economic, demographic, and social trends on the global business environment. He has written about the economies of Western Europe, Eastern Europe, Southeast Asia, China, Japan, Mexico and South America, has written extensively on global consumer markets, and is managing editor of Deloitte's quarterly Global Economic Outlook. Frequently quoted by national media, Dr. Kalish has made economic presentations in 46 countries around the globe.

Dr. Kalish will be interviewed by Roger Nanney, vice chairman of Deloitte and national leader of Deloitte Growth Enterprise Services.

Participants can submit questions during the registration process as well as learn what their peers think about economic issues via real-time polling results.

Program learning objectives

Deloitte's Economic Perspectives live video webcast features a discussion of what may lie ahead in 2015 for the U.S. and global economy. This program will help executives stay abreast of current events and their potential impact on mid-market and privately held companies. The conversation will focus on the durability of the U.S. economy, the outlook for monetary policy and trends to watch in China, Europe, Japan and other key markets.
