

RESILIENT

Knowing, growing, and keeping the business safe

Host: Don Fancher, Principal, Deloitte Risk & Financial Advisory

Guest: Rishi Varma, General Counsel & Corporate Secretary,
Hewlett Packard Enterprise

Don Fancher: Welcome to Resilient. I'm Don Fancher, the Global Leader for Deloitte's Forensic Practice, as well as the Co-leader of our Legal Business Services Practice and the co-host of our Chief Legal Officer track.

You know, with all the uncertainty of today's environment, it's truly blurring the boundaries of today's legal department. The legal office has shifted to no longer being just about protecting the organization from risk, but also now being called upon to transform operations and grow the business. It's driving innovative thinking, new approaches and a rapid adoption to the greater use of technology.

Today we're going to talk about what that looks like for an innovative technology company with an equally innovative legal leader. I'm joined by Rishi Varma, general counsel and corporate secretary of Hewlett Packard Enterprise.

Rishi Varma: As a tech company, I thought, well, you know, knowing the business likely means better understanding the underlying code. And so wouldn't it be cool if we had lawyers that could code?

Don Fancher: If you're curious about legal transformation and how to elevate legal operations, I encourage you to visit our chief legal officer program site on deloitte.com.
