

Transition to the Cloud, A Different Approach

Rick Herschberg, Product Manager, Deloitte Consulting LLP

The Challenge: Part I Status Quo

Many organizations aren't ready to move to the cloud for all of their HR-related functions at one time.

Some organizations have significant investments in their on-premise SAP Human Capital Management (HCM) solution and want to proceed toward the cloud at their own pace.

The Challenge: Part II Workers are on the move

As employees use more mobile and cloud based solutions in their personal lives, they expect an easy to use experience when using internal HR systems.

There is an expectation for HR functionality to extend to mobile platforms—so employees can access relevant information and perform basic HR activities regardless of their device or location.

The Challenge: Part III Your Workforce is Changing

According to Deloitte's 2016 Human Capital Trends report, nearly 50% of the workforce are Millennials.

“Young people anticipate working for many employers and demand an enriching experience at every stage”¹.

It is crucial to consider interim and quick-win options to keep your workforce engaged while you weigh options and decide on a long-term option.

The Challenge Behind the Challenge

The new challenge lies in meeting the demands of your workforce and making the HR experience one that engages employees, bolsters the workforce, and enhances productivity.

Without immediate plans to move to the cloud, how will you meet the demands of your workforce?

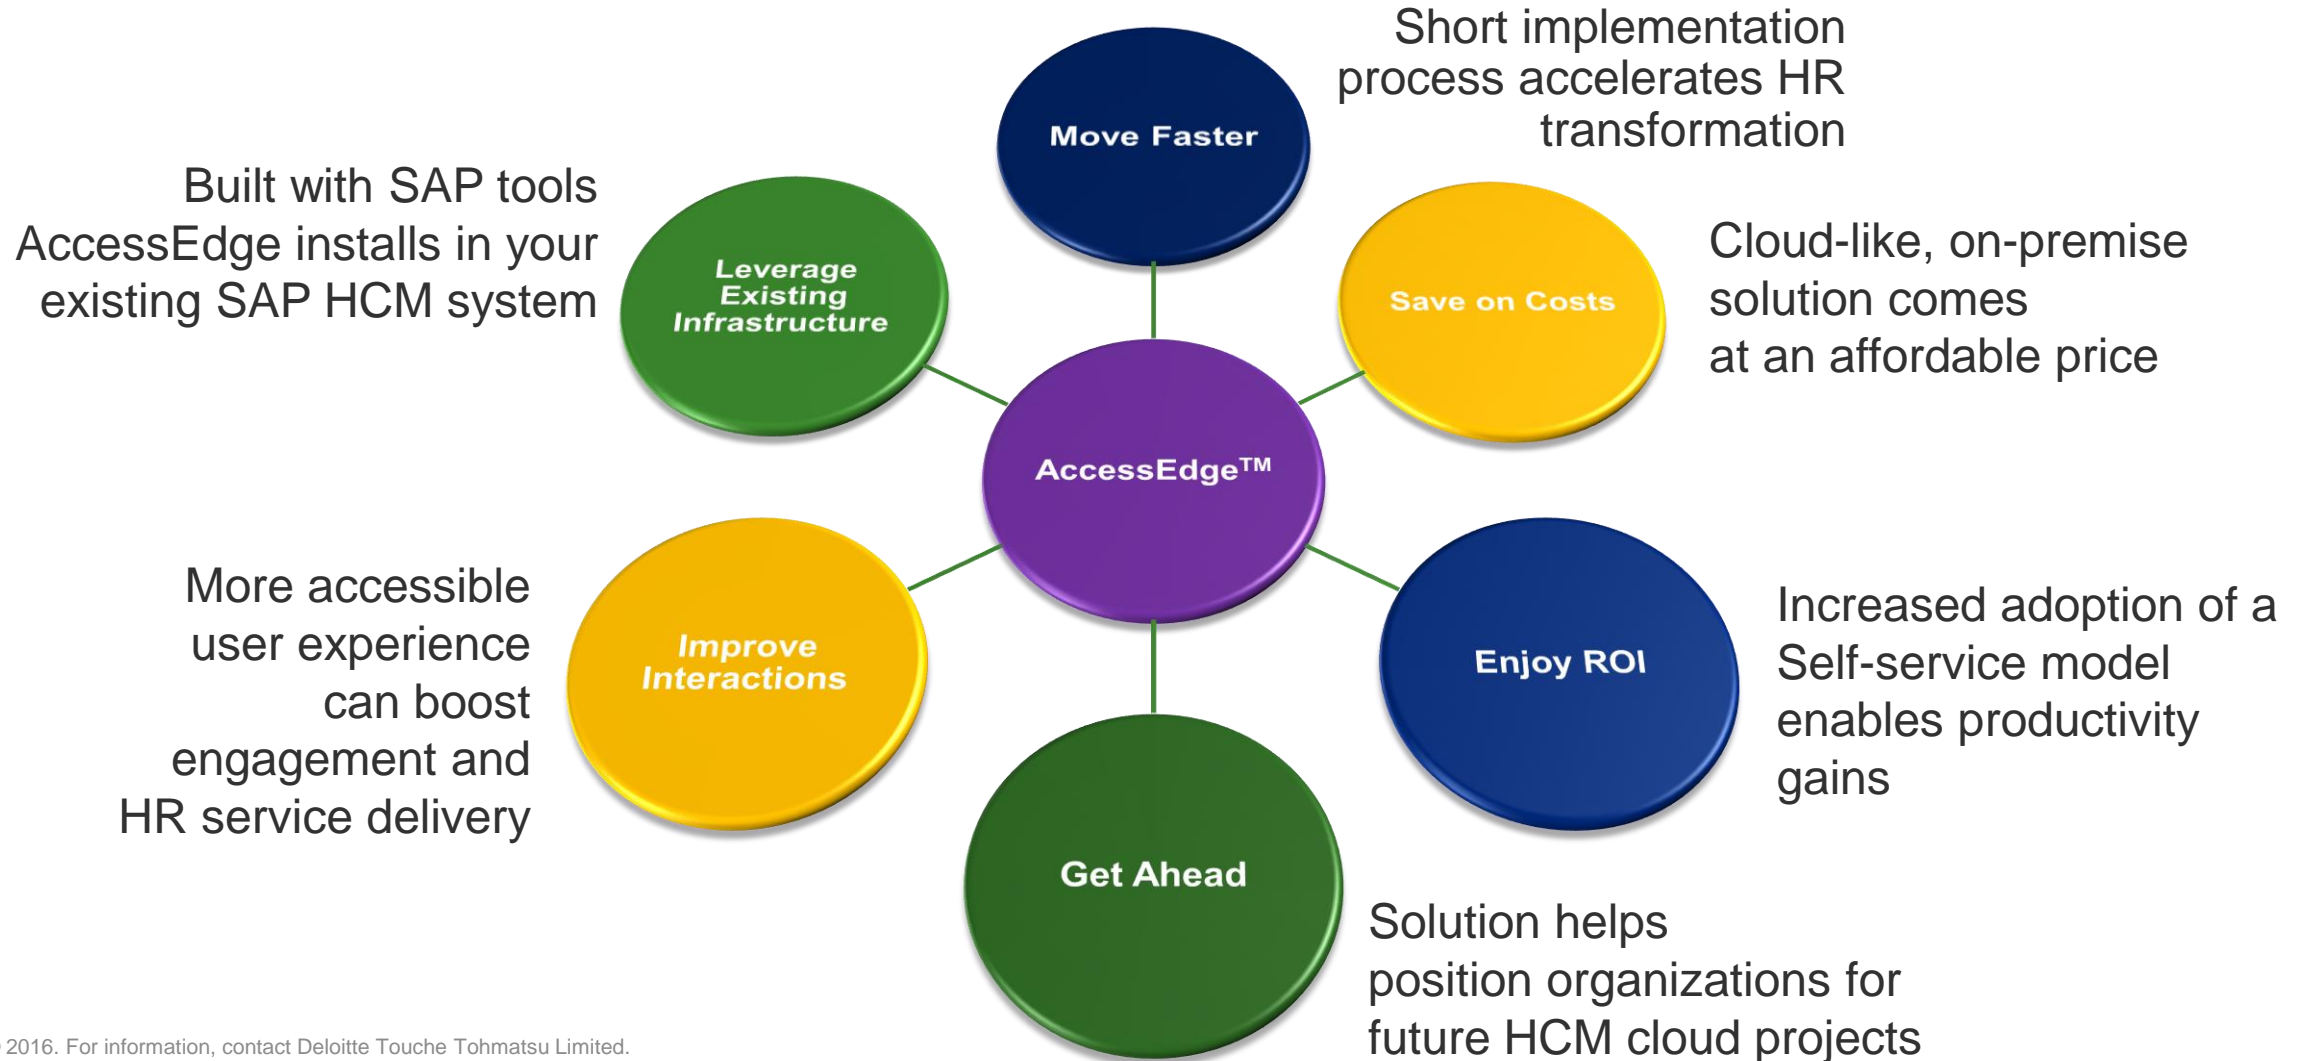

Will your workforce wait?
