The Federal Talent Landscape

As agencies seek to respond to the current administration's call for increased organizational efficiency and effectiveness, solutions to modernize and consolidate technology are urgently needed. Agencies want the modern customer experience, integrated data, robust reporting capabilities, and reduced upkeep costs of a cloud-based solution. HR FedForward™ is the answer.

Opportunities

- Reduce Capital Expenditures
  Cloud-based technology requires less capital investment than On-Premise solutions

- Reduce Maintenance and Upgrades
  Eliminating updates as they are included in the maintenance

- Streamline Processes
  Newer technology allows for more streamlined and standardized processes

- Integrate Systems and Processes
  New technology supports the increased integration of data and processes over a disparate network of talent management systems

- Improve Usability
  Intuitive systems and processes make it easier to deploy to employees and professionals beyond Human Resources

- Enhance Reporting
  Reporting capabilities can be expanded and enhanced to pull in multiple data sources and support workforce planning activities

HR FedForward™ as a Core Government Human Resources Solution

HR FedForward™ is the only cloud-based, federalized Title 5 end-to-end solution for Core HR. HR FedForward™ leverages Deloitte’s Momentum methodology and tools to help Government agencies transform their human capital management systems and not just implement a system.

Internal and external factors are driving Federal agencies to consider innovative solutions to meet mission demands in a fiscally constrained environment

- Rising expectations of employees for digital services
- Need for automation and self-service
- Increased compliance and controls
- Aging IT systems that are unable to meet today's demands
- Shortage of workforce innovation
